1.) Přečti následující text :

Terry Herbert ,55,has hunter for treasure using a metal detector for the past 18 years.In that time ,he´s never found anything especially valuable.But on July 5,his luck changed-along with historians´ view of Britain´s history.In field in Staffordshire,England ,Herbert found a trove of ancient artifacts.The find was announced on September 24. Archeologists are awed by the size of the discovery.More than 1,300 pieces have been unearthed.

The artefacts are thought to date between 675 and725, in a period that is sometimes called the Dark Ages.The time was marked by frequent fighting .The gold in the collection weighs 11 pounds.That suggests,that England during the Dark Ages was richer than historians thought.
